CV Conference Review (PMS Coverage)

*From CV Conference Material

PMS Parts	Periodic Maintenance Service Parts. (Ex. Filter, Clutch, Brakes, Oil, etc.)
Vehicle UIO	Vehicle Units in Operation. (Number of vehicles still running in market)

PMS Coverage Calculation

(1) Vehicle UIO

Based on UIO within 5 years as of 2024.

Survival Ratio (%)
1 year	100%
2 year	99%
3 year	98%
4 year	97%
5 year	96%

(2) Potential Units

Assuming 50% of the UIO within 5 years.

CY	UIO	Total	Potential Unit
2020	2,476
2021	4,460	50%
2022	4,892	19,926 →	9,963
2023	4,117
2024	3,981

(3) Potential Demand

Potential Units × Replacement Frequency

*Calculated based on 80,000km annual milage and items recommended replacement interval

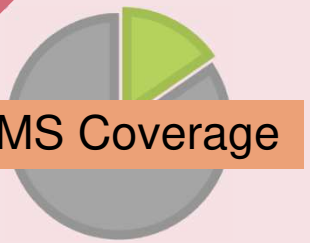

(4) Actual Demand

Based on 2024CY IML Order Result.

(5) Coverage Calculation

$$\frac{\text{Actual Demand}}{\text{Potential Demand}} = \text{PMS Coverage}$$

PMS Coverage Calculation

The cover ratio calculation method introduced earlier is just one possible approach.

Actual UIO and Replacement Frequency of each item differ across markets, depending on the local environment and operating conditions.

Discussion of cover ratio figures is out of scope for this presentation.

Purpose is to make a relative comparison of cover ratios under same conditions.

To lead the discussion toward identifying the sales potential of PMS parts.

PMS Analysis

PMS Items Comparison Approach

Sample

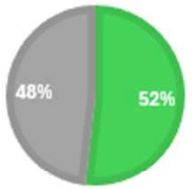

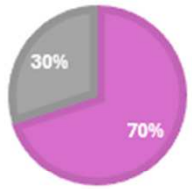

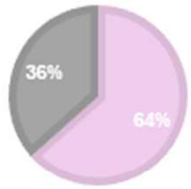

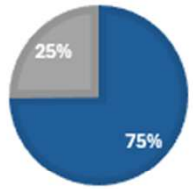

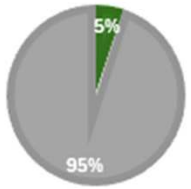

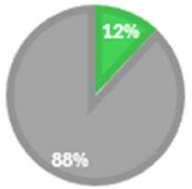

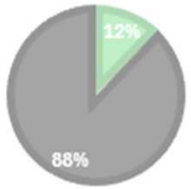

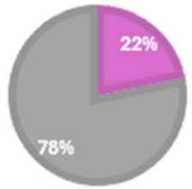

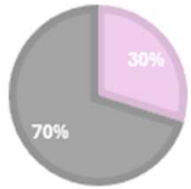

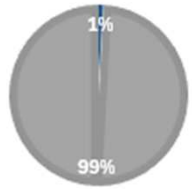

Why Fuel Filter demand is much lower than Oil Filter?

PMS Analysis

Market Comparison Approach

Sample

Region	Market	UIO	Fuel Filter	Oil Filter	Air Filter	Disc Clutch	Plessure Plate	Brake類 Total
A	X	45,000
A	Y	50,000

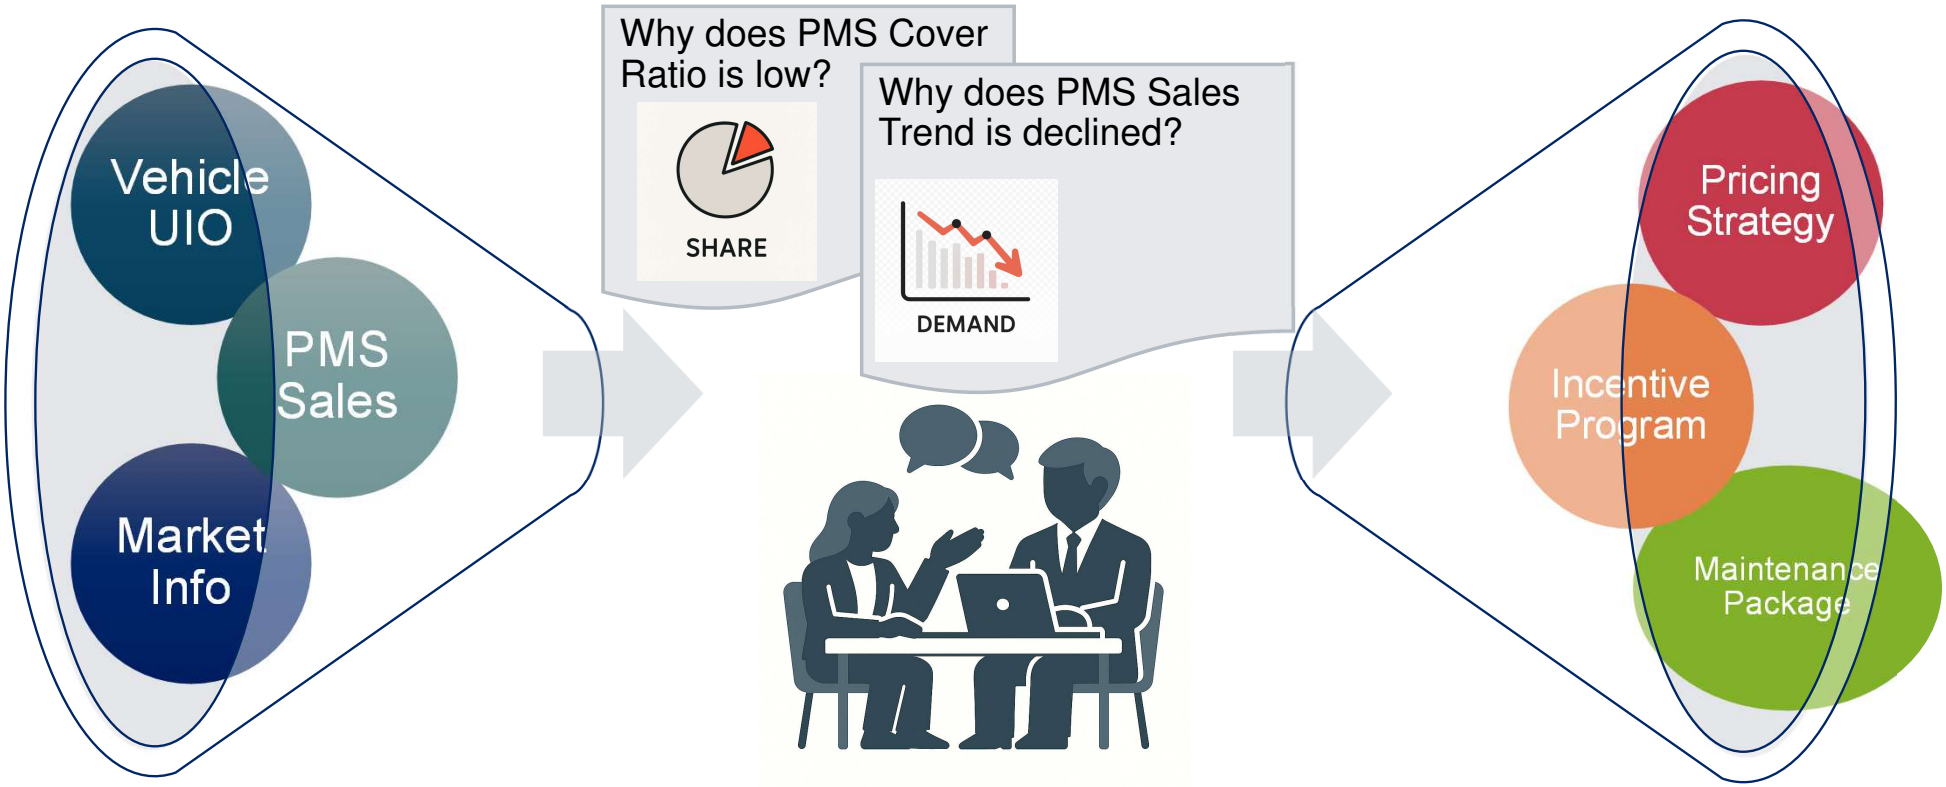

Same region, Similar UIO - Yet low Cover Ratio

What potential do we have?
